Chapter 1 Introduction

This software is designed to be used with the Document Camera, which is suitable for education, conferences and other scenarios. Textbooks, documents, and physical objects can be transmitted to IFPD (Interactive Flat Panel Displays) for real-time display, and users can also annotate the displayed content. At the same time, this software also supports capturing pictures and comparing images, which brings great convenience for teaching and presentation.

Chapter 2 Install Software

Go to <https://display.hikvision.com/en/products/software/documentcamera/> to install “Document Camera” software.

After installing the software and connecting to document camera, you will see the main page. You can put any textbook, document, or physical object under the camera.
